Welcome New Members!

With joy and thanksgiving we welcome Troy and Patti Swinford to the Central family! Troy and Patti (and their daughter Brooke) have been faithful attenders of our 8:00 a.m. service since the summer of 2020 – shortly after we reopened to in-person worship in the early days of the pandemic. They were looking for a church home at the time and found one here among us. As they joined, they said “It feels like the right thing to do.” We are so grateful to have them part of our faith community!

Thank You For Your Service!

After 11 years of faithful work for Central as a custodian, Jim Denzer retired this past week. Pictured here with his wife Diane, Jim has been a vital part of our staff for more than a decade. He promises not to be a stranger, but is looking forward to spending more time with his wife and their beloved dogs and... a soon-to-arrive grandchild! Thank you, Jim, for your great commitment to Central!

Ash Wednesday: Confessing our Need for God

Thus far in 2022, we have focused on the gospel of Luke during Sunday worship. Each of the four gospels – Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John – tell the story of Jesus' life, ministry, death, and resurrection, just from a different perspective. In Luke's telling of the story, prayer is emphasized more than in any of the others. Jesus is often found praying; he is continually in prayer. He prays at the beginning of his ministry and at the very end of it. He prays before meals and before performing miracles. He teaches his disciples about the importance of prayer and then demonstrates it by taking time for himself to pray. Sometimes, when he prays, we know the exact words he spoke. From the cross, for example, we know he said "Father, forgive them..." Likewise, we know the precise words he spoke in the Lord's Prayer. But other times we have no idea what he said during his prayer, only that he prayed.

Which is quite appropriate. For prayer can be two-fold. It can be conversation with God, talking with God, specific words spoken to God. But it can also be communion with God; not necessarily saying anything, but just spending time with God. The word "communion" means "to have unity with." This is also what prayer is – union with God. Furthermore, there is no right and wrong way to pray. Prayer is not about speaking the "right" thing nor doing certain things. It has long been said that the only "bad" prayer is the prayer that isn't offered. Any conversation we have with God and any time we spend with God is, by definition, "good."

Today, March 2, begins the season of Lent. It is the six weeks that leads us into Easter. Since the days of the ancient church, Lent has been a time to give extra effort and energy to drawing near God's presence. It is a special time in the year to remember what is important all year round. That is, we should always be giving special attention to growing in our faith. We should always be giving extra effort and energy to drawing near God's presence. The reality is, however, that the pressures and demands of earthly living naturally pull us away from this. So Lent is given to us as a time in the year to re-focus on what's truly important in life, to put our priorities in the proper order.

That is why we are focusing on prayer during Lent this year at Central. We want to encourage one another to spend more time in prayer, more time having unity with God, dwelling in God's presence, talking and conversing with God. This is what really matters in our lives.

Many people think of giving things up during Lent; sacrificing something valuable for these 40 days. The thinking is that we sacrifice something enjoyable to us to appreciate how Christ sacrificed his life on the cross for our salvation. Often times, however, that sacrifice is about something physical. "I'm giving up chocolate for Lent or soda." Or, "I'm going to spend less time on my computer during Lent or on social media." But once Easter arrives and Lent is over, we go back to doing the very things we gave up. So we want to look at Lent differently this year. And this is also why our theme during Lent is prayer. We want to encourage everyone to give up whatever they have to do during Lent to pray more over these 6 weeks. And... the hope is that when Lent is over, we will continue that practice. So that next year, prayer is not something special we do, but a reflection of what we have been doing all along.

And it all starts today with Ash Wednesday. On this day, we impose ashes on the foreheads or hands of all who wish to receive them. We wear ashes to remember our dependence on God, how we need God for our very life and survival. Our earthly lives are finite. We are all imperfect people who regularly make poor choices. Were it not for God’s grace and love and provision—revealed to us through a savior in Jesus Christ – we would be lost. We only put ashes on our bodies one day during the year. But receiving ashes on this day is another reminder of the importance of prayer – which we can do every day of the year. Ashes remind us of the need to draw near to God, to confess our need for God, and our gratitude for God.

Blessings – Michael
