Title: Alcohol

Focus: A recent report indicates that alcohol usage is at the same level as it was before Prohibition and that alcohol-related deaths have more than doubled in the past twenty years. What is our culture's relationship with alcohol? As people of faith, how do we navigate the complexities that arise from the use and abuse of alcohol?

Preschool News

This week, the preschool started gearing up for Valentine's Day. They made decorations for their bulletin boards and talked about being kind to one another. The 4 year old classrooms also had a tool week. They learned about the names of different tools and what they are used for. They even used real tools and did some building of their own with adult supervision. The Pre-K Class made fruit pizzas and had a pancake and pajama day just for fun.

Welcome New Members!

With joy and thanksgiving we welcome Charles and Sandra Hunter to the Central family. The Hunters have long been associated with Central, as their daughter and son-in-law (Steve and Carrie Funk) are long time members. In recent years they have been regulars at worship and made their association one of membership during the 10:30 service this past Sunday. Welcome Charles and Sandra!

The Mountains are Calling

In scripture, big things happen on mountains. Really big things. On Mount Ararat, God gave Noah the rainbow sign that promised the earth would never again be flooded. On Mount Moriah, Abraham proved worthy in his faithfulness to God's Word. On Mount Horeb, Moses met God in the burning bush, and on Mount Sinai, God gave him the Ten Commandments. On Mount Carmel, God proved victorious over idols and false gods through the prophet Elijah. In the New Testament, Jesus overcame Satan's temptations on a mountain. He gave his first sermon on a mountain, was crucified on a mountain, and ascended into heaven from a mountain.

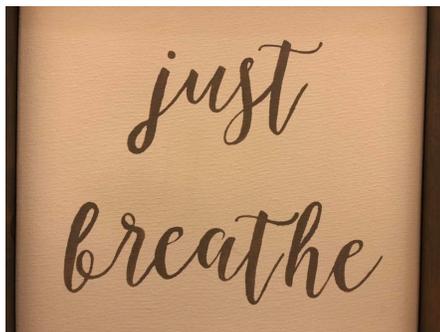

On mountains, God's nature and character are most vividly revealed. We see and hear God's Word and intentions most clearly on mountains, and we learn more about ourselves. We learn about our place in God's world and what our calling is in that world. We come face to face with our greatest hopes and challenges and struggles on mountaintops.

It is no surprise that mountains hold a fascination over us today. We go to mountains to get away from the pressures and stresses of day-to-day living. On mountaintops, we feel closer to God. We see the world with a perspective and clarity that is not possible to us from the flatland, and the climb up the mountain reveals how much more there is within us than we initially believe. Climbing a mountain is about overcoming fear, fatigue, and the tempting pull to go back down. It is about discovering a resiliency and persevering, enduring capability inside us we didn't before recognize. Yes, mountains are not just places where big things happen in scripture; they are places of "big things happening" in our own lives.

In that spirit, our sermon series for the rest of February is called "The Mountains are Calling." We will spend three weeks examining scriptures where Jesus experienced things that powerfully impact us spiritually. We hope you will join us as we learn more about God's true intentions for us and seek to rise to the challenge of being Christ's followers more fully and faithfully!

- February 9 The Mountain of Temptation Matthew 4:1-11
Aligning our choices with Jesus' own
- February 16 The Mountain of Apostleship Mark 3:13-19
Jesus makes the choice to choose us
- February 23 The Mountain of Transfiguration Matthew 17:1-9
Will we choose to follow Christ to the cross?

-Blessings... Michael

THANK YOU!

Thank you for supporting the 2020 women's retreat, Reclaim Your Glow. Fifty-six women from twenty area churches joined together and learned how each one is uniquely created with a core-essence that is specific to her call. Issues, challenges, and daily routines can corrupt perceptions and dim her glow. We took time to allow God's transforming, healing power to move our perceptions and renew our core essences. Christ in us! It was a meaningful yet relaxing time.

Just Flicks - February 9th, 6:00 PM, First Presbyterian Church

Summer in the Forest will be shown on Sunday, February 9. This documentary tells the story of the L'Arche communities, which are described in their website as "people with and without intellectual disabilities living, working, praying, and playing together in community." A summary on IMDb says: "Like countless others, Philippe, Michel, Andre, and Patrick were labeled 'idiots', locked away and forgotten in violent asylums, until the 1960s, when the young philosopher Jean Vanier took a stand and secured their release - the first time in history that anyone had beaten the system. Together they created L'Arche, a commune at the edge of a beautiful forest near Paris." Don Martin will lead the discussion.
